Last Supper to be enacted Sunday

BELLE GLADE—Members of Community United Methodist Church will renew a 14-year tradition Sunday night with "A Living Dramatization of The Last Supper."

The dramatization, which begins at 7:30 p.m. and will take the place of the evening service, features Jesus and the 12 Disciples in the poses portrayed in the famous painting by Leonardo da Vinci.

Leonardo, portrayed by Earl Meredith in the presentation, explains the masterpiece was commissioned by the Duke of Milan in 1494 to decorate the dining room of the convent of the Church of Santa Maria delle Grazie in Milan, Italy.

He explains in his presentation the painting doesn't attempt to be accurate portrayal of what the last supper actually looked like but is set up the way it might have been in the 15th Century.

The most striking feature of the dramatization is the fact the characters portraying Jesus and the Disciples hold rigid poses for the hour performance, except for the one time each of the Disciples relax to make an oral sketch of his own life and how he feels about Jesus' declaration one of the 12 will betray him.

Joe Clayton, who portrays Jesus, is the only one in the scene, except for an assistant to Leonardo, who doesn't speak in the dramatization.

As the drama unfolds, each of the Disciples is spotlighted as he speaks, then the lights go down to be replaced by a general lighting of the entire tableau as songs are sung between the individual presentations.

The dark background, combined with the lighting provided for the scene in its entirety and the costumes worn by the actors, see SUPPER p 9

Equal rights discussed

BELLE GLADE—Pros and cons of the Equal Rights Amendment were discussed Monday night at a rally held at the Belle Glade Civic Center.

Representatives from the National Organization of Women (NOW) led a program which centered on the progression of the woman's status from the women's suffrage days in the early 1900's until today.

Several members of the audience questioned the effects of the amendment. Alice Cohan, member of the National Board of Directors of NOW, read the amendment that may become part of the constitution, as follows: 1) equality of rights under the law shall not be abridged by the U.S. or any state on the account of sex, 2) Congress shall have the power to enforce such provisions and 3) the amendment, if passed, will go into effect two years after the date of ratification.

Mrs. Ray Roth of Belle Glade questioned the need for the amendment since the passage of the Equal Opportunity Act of 1972 granting equal pay provisions for men and women.

"We need a constitutional amendment to give those pieces of legislation more push," Cohan responded.

In an historical overview, the women presented a program of talk and a film on the struggle of women to get their right to vote and the inception of the Equal Rights idea by Alice Paul in 1928.

Liz Copeland of Daytona Beach, speaking for NOW, stated "The interpretation has gone far beyond the meaning of this amendment." She associated the various interpretations with the interpretations of the Bible throughout the world.

At this point, a member of the audience asked how the amendment would be interpreted by the states. "It's not specific enough," the woman said, "it's ambiguous. You'll have to go through the courts for specific issues anyway in order for the equal rights issue to support you."

Legislative history on record will give guidance in the interpretation of ERA, Cohan said. "ERA is a basic tenant, a guide for further interpretation," she continued.

"Now we have to prove we've been discriminated against," Copeland said. "If the bill is passed employers will have to prove they did not discriminate. Don't get confused about the scare tactics," she stressed.

Topics covered included the inclusion of women in the armed services. "A very small percentage actually serve front line duty," Cohan said, noting that we now have a volunteer army, not a draft system. "I think as Americans, as human beings, we should all have equal responsibility," Mrs. Copeland said.

Major concern of those questioning the amendment seemed to be the generality of it. "Put it in black and white," Mrs. Roth said, after listening to the representatives' own interpretations of the amendment.

Groundbreaking set

BELLE GLADE—Groundbreaking ceremonies for the new city hall which will be built in MacDonald Park will take place at 11 a.m. today according to City Manager Robert Sanders.

Two of the speakers for the ceremony will be Dan Mica of U.S. Representative Paul Roger's West Palm Beach office and Bill Bailey, former city commissioner and currently the Glades representative on the Palm Beach County Commission.

"I'd like to invite you to park a police car in my driveway," Mrs. Mendal Luce said, "so you could catch some of the speeders, maybe then they'd stop calling me the Wicked Witch of the West."

City Manager Robert Sanders presented a plan to the commission which would add another set of two tennis courts, lights, shuffleboard courts, restrooms and playground equipment for small children, along with four parking spaces for five cars each.

The commission decided, instead, to go along with Commissioner Tom Altman's motion to add another tennis court, lights, lot equipment, landscaping to consist of hedges surrounding the park and parking only on the eastern side of the

Sugar House grinds down

BELLE GLADE—The Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, Inc., ground down at the Glades Sugar House Monday morning with records for the amount of cane ground daily and weekly under its collective belt.

General Manager William Miller, III said the two-tandem mill ground a total of 2,297,241 tons during the 148 day season, averaging 15,595 tons a day...which is higher than the record set by the mill two years ago.

"I don't have all the data yet," Miller said, "but there has been a reduction in the amount of cane per acre and in the yield of sucrose."

He said the mill produced a total of 195,205 tons of raw sugar and 18,181,000 gallons of molasses for the year.

The reduction in yields, of course, is a direct result of the week-long freeze in January, which is also responsible for daily and weekly records of grinding.

Miller said the new record for the amount of cane ground per day was set at 21,109 tons and the weekly record was 140,227 tons (averaging 20,032 tons per day).

He said the records were set in an attempt to salvage cane following the freeze.

Miller went on to comment that the final amount of damages from the freeze wasn't completed this year since all plant cane was damaged at least to some extent.

The full extent probably won't be known until harvest begins next year and other variables which will affect that crop include the weather during the summer.

Park development opposed

Altman had said earlier he felt the park is too small to be manageable for supervised activities such as the shuffleboard courts.

Carl Dean pointed out this is the only open space park left in the city and the only practice area for little league football teams during that season.

Is more land available?

BELLE GLADE—If the city finds too much opposition to developing Lyons Park, another alternative may be opening up in the form of another park.

It was brought out at the meeting Monday night the city commission is quietly attempting to open talks with the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, Inc. to buy a parcel of land across the Hillsboro Canal from the Southeast Seventh Street Bridge.

The property the city is interested in lies behind a row of houses on East Canal Street North and Commissioner Tom Altman said it is large enough to install a major recreational complex similar to the Lakeshore complex now being built.

"I would like you to consider where the kids will go when all this is filled up," Dean told the commissioners.

Several of the residents questioned the need or desirability for restrooms in the park, saying it is supposed to be a neighborhood park and any children wanting to go to the restroom could go home.

Mayor Ralph Kirk agreed Lyons is a neighborhood park but said the neighborhood includes more than the immediate streets surrounding it, "and you can't expect a child to walk six or seven blocks, or further, to go to the bathroom."

Another major objection to the restrooms came from Carl Dean, who said they would be an invitation to drugs and other problems.

"If you go ahead with this thing," Dean said, "you're going to have to increase the policing there. The far end of that park is a passion pit now. You drive by there and you'll be embarrassed."

"It's been hinted at," said Commissioner William Grear, who voted against Altman's motion when it was made later, "that the people in the neighborhood don't want the park at all because they want to keep

New rescue truck is double dose of good news for Belle Glade FD

BELLE GLADE—Fire Chief Pete Webb said a new rescue truck the city commission authorized him to buy is double dose of good news, being virtually custom made and costing less than any other prospective vehicles.

The commissioners accepted Webb's recommendation to buy the truck from Custom Ambulance of Florida, located in Lake Park for $17,498.

Webb said a company representative made several trips to Belle Glade and used the information gained on those trips to plan compartments into the rescue truck to hold the equipment carried on the truck the city now owns.

Besides the compartmentalization and the price (other bids ran as high as $22,114) Webb said another advantage include an all-aluminum body, expected to last longer and provide better handling because of the reduction in weight, and a larger truck chassis which would normally cost $500 to $800 more than the shorter chassis included in the other bids.

The chief said the new truck will be delivered in 60 days and will look something like the new ambulance owned by Terry Moss rather than the open truck the city now owns.

Because the body is aluminum, Webb said it could outlast three chassis and can be lifted off one chassis and placed on another.

Plans now call for putting the tank and pump, which originally came with the present rescue truck, back on it and using it for a fast-response minipumper. It will also carry a couple of the heavier rescue tools owned by the department.

THIS RESCUE TRUCK will become a common sight on Belle Glade streets once it's delivered to the Fire Department in the next 60 days.

I'm a Steve Mitchell fan.

Steve, ace columnist for the Palm Beach Post, makes a lot of sense a lot of times and one of its most recent columns was one of his best.

We made the point that justice in the United States isn't exactly just at times and points out the case of Robert Anthony Williams.

Williams was convicted of the murder of a ten-year-old girl on Christmas Eve in 1968 but his conviction was overturned by the U.S. Supreme Court, who said when Williams made incriminating remarks and took police to the little girl's body without benefit of a lawyer's presence.

As Mitchell puts it, "The police in this country stubbornly cling to the belief that their function is to catch criminals and obtain proof of their guilt so that they may be punished for their crimes."

The course keep reminding them otherwise.

Although there has been more emphasis placed in recent times on the problems of victims of violent crime, not much has been done for their cause.

Instead, the criminal element is continuing to receive more and more benefit of law and civil right. It would appear society wishes not to "punish" people for their wrongdoing, but to "rehabilitate" them into beneficial roles.

Trouble is, many of the "white collar" criminals soaked away in jails throughout the country were leaders in their communities and generous with contributions and time to worthy causes...even if the money they contributed wasn't theirs.

These people aren't being rehabilitated, they're being punished. And justly so. Crime is crime no matter what the individual status.

The point I think I'm getting around to is that those who commit crimes should be punished, surely and swiftly.

It is not society's duty or obligation to send them to college, as is now being done, nor is it really society's job to "rehabilitate" them.

It is society's job, as I see it, to protect itself and punish those who can't live within the guidelines generally accepted.

Many feel that society has "failed" the criminal and forced him to take the road to ruin. Bunk. Society has not failed him...he has failed society.

Society today grants individuals more opportunity than ever before in history. But it cannot give and give and give and give and give.

Voice from the Wilderness

By Andy Campanaro

When determining a conclusion in any situation one must begin with logical syllogisms.

So in this case, the logic (or argument, if you will) is: take a couple of syllogisms and shove them into the computer:

1. Homo sapiens (man) is the greatest intellect on the planet earth.

2. Progress has accumulated to the point where we can control our environment.

Conclusion: We must control our environment so as to keep it pleasant, civilized, human, and peaceful.

There are some arguments for snakes, alligators, and wolves being domesticated. These species are predators and have no intelligence on any measured scale.

If we, indeed, in the future can control the earth's ecological scale to the degree we are going to replace old Mother Nature as the balancing force, we can agree for the above-mentioned species being eliminated. All three are potentially dangerous to humans.

Porpoises, on the other hand, have no danger potential to humans, do have mammalian characteristics, both physically and possibly psychologically.

The porpoise, to a greater or lesser degree, may have developed in the seas to the same degree of mental competence as we have. It has been measured that they have a language, habits of cluster and breeding, and it is sometimes themselves towards us to the degree porpoises have been credited with saving human lives

National Dividend rated over rebate

It's amazing how many people are getting so excited over a $50 rebate they may get this year when a plan conceived ten years ago would mean a $750 tax free payment to every registered voter in the United States...and that's every year.

It's called the National Dividend Plan and the group backing it nationwide is called AND, an acronym meaning Americans for the National Dividend.

The National Dividend Plan, or the NDP as it's sometimes called, isn't anything new but there are a lot of people who've never heard of it.

The whole idea is to stop putting corporate taxes into the general federal tax fund; just turn 'em over to the people directly. That would average out to $750 per registered voter per year, although it would be less in bad years and more in good years.

The main reason behind the NDP isn't a handout, though. It's an economic spur that uses "real money" earned by the people instead of money that's been run off the press because the government needs some more and they've run out of tax money.

If the plan were implemented as it now stands, and there is a bill due to be dumped in the Congressional hopper this year, the $750 wouldn't be taxable and would be distributed by banks, who would be allowed to hold the money long enough to pay for their services. And that even kills the usual administrative overhead.

Since the money would then be spent by the recipients, or invested, the economy would be stimulated, really stimulated instead of using "funny money" and employment would go down, decreasing the number of people who would be on unemployment and welfare.

And that's on top of the number of borderline welfare recipients who would be removed from the welfare rolls and placed on the tax rolls, which in turn would mean some of the tax money would be replaced.

An extra attraction is that, since the rebates would be delivered only to registered voters, more people would be given an incentive to take a more active part in the government of their nation.

Which is a darn sight more attractive than the plan offered recently by President Carter to have anyone registered to vote at the polling place.

There may be drawbacks, but if there are, we haven't been able to locate them.

So why isn't the NDP a part of our lives already? Good question. Ask your friendly local Congressman. Or your friendly local bureaucrat.

Because we weren't entirely honest. There is a drawback, at least as far as big government is concerned. A direct result of the NDP would be a decrease by that much of control of the economy by government. That control would pass directly to the people.

But a few of us would like to live with that kind of drawback.

Get back to basics

[Reprinted from the Miami Herald]

Some years ago a popular school of literary thought agonized about the tendency of modern bureaucracy to drag down achievers. If the trend continued, authors warned, society would wind up dedicated to the pursuit of complacent mediocrity.

Like the drug culture and genetic engineering foreseen by Aldous Huxley, the well-leveled society is stealing up on us. Consider as an example some recent events in Fort Lauderdale.

Worried about low standards in the public schools, a group of parents pleaded for one of those "traditional" programs. If one were set up and they could enroll their children, they promised, they would back up the teachers and make sure the kids worked hard.

Now the special school, Pine Ridge Elementary, is under attack. Its critics say the program works too well. Since teachers and motivated students and hard-working parents all love it, students and teachers are leaving other schools to take part in it. Which, according to the critics, is "draining" good people from other schools.

Not only that, complained an irate mother from a non-traditional school, but it was "illegal" for parents to agree that the teachers could use tough discipline on their children.

It smacks of sour grapes from someone whose kids didn't make it, and one might expect to see counter arguments from educators pleased to see at least one school dedicated to the pursuit of excellence. Not so—in fact, quite the contrary.

Irked because Pine Ridge has its own independent parents' group to support the time-consuming program, the county PTA is backing the critics. Several principals from non-traditional schools applauded loudly when critics sounded off at a recent school board meeting. They have never liked the program.

One of the criticisms of Pine Ridge is that, since it requires who will spend extra time and effort to help their children progress, it discriminates against the disadvantaged. It apparently hasn't occurred to the critics to find some way of giving extra help to the deprived, rather than slapping down the enthusiasm of the parents who offer such help—free of charge.

If the school board bows to pressure and kills the Pine Ridge program it may sound like one small step for egalitarianism. It will also, sadly, be one small step for mediocrity.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

I've heard about hand-feeding pets before but some people tend to take things to extremes...like the guy with the circus which came to town last Wednesday.

Matter of fact, Ralph Lee Cool, one of the roustabouts who hailed from Blue Ridge Summit, Pa., didn't play it too cool at all. He just went ahead and handed one of the circus lions one of his hands.

And Leo, who must've been one of your swifter pudgy tats at the uptake, promptly took the hint and chowed down. On Mr. Cool's hand, that is. Didn't even wait around for a hand, applause, type, that is.

And before anybody gets fatty and points a finger of scorn: this way for all these bad puns: just remember that comes close to what Mr. Cool did and look what happened to him.

And he'd just said that morning, while he was feeding the big cats, that there wasn't too much to feeding them.

Wonder how he feels about that now, after he was feeding one of them his hand, as opposed to feeding them out of his hand.

Matter of fact, there's a certain young radio newscaster type around town who said he was there when Ralph Lee was feeding the cats and had the impression they were nothing but big-ole pussy cats.

He even pulled the leg of one of the lions, who must've felt frisky with the cool weather last Wednesday.

But before anyone thinks a pussy cat deserves the reputation most people give 'em these days, they oughta talk to Wade in the back shop. He tangled with a pussy cat a couple of weeks ago and came out durn near as bad as Mr. Cool.

On the other hand, it only took 20 stitches to close up Wade's arm after Tiger got ahold of him. That would have to be considerable better than having a cat eat out of your hand when that cat could eat your hand off just as easily.

Couldn't help thinking, though, that sure would make a fine mousetrap to have around the house...at least until he got the idea you were the mouse.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor

I am most concerned about the equal rights amendment.

As it stands now, the amendment is too vague, and I believe its passage would do more harm than good. Any thinking American would know that if people can't agree now about how the ERA will affect our society, they certainly won't agree after it's law. Then it will be taken to the courts where liberal judges will decide the fate of millions.

But even more frightening is the list of eight important amendments that were rejected by our United States Senate before the ERA was offered to the states for ratification.

These amendments would have exempted women from compulsory military service; exempted women from combat service in the military; maintained the existing legal protections and exemptions for women; maintained existing legal protections and exemptions for wives, mothers and widows; maintained responsibility of fathers to support their children; maintained existing laws securing privacy for males and females; maintained existing laws making sexual offenses punishable crimes; and recognized legally the functional and psychological differences between sexes.

I am appalled that our United States Senators would reject such amendments that would have clearly protected the girls, wives and mothers of this nation.

Moreover, an appalled that state legislators and congressmen would continue to support the ERA after these facts had been made aware of these facts.

Mr. and Mrs. Padgett are honored at show

PAHOKEE—Mayor and Mrs. Duncan Padgett were honored guests at the annual fashion show and dinner, sponsored by the Pahokee Woman's Club, which was held March 26, in the Pahokee Elementary School Cafeteria.

Attractive spring fashions were modeled by lovely local ladies, glamorous high school students and adorable tiny tots, before an appreciative audience.

Ada Bush, past president of the Women's Club, acting as fashion coordinator, entertained the crowd with her off-the-cuff remarks.

Appearing in the show were Judy Maxwell and Linda Dixon for Marguerite's Dress Shop; Charlotte Walston, Barbara Gamble, Rita Heffernan, Beth Adams and Charise Dermody for the Apple Green; Kristie McArthur and Kerry Kennedy for Kiddieland of Belle Glade; and Michelle Wilkinson, Julie Riddle, Lynn Korbly, Sean Ramsey, Mitchell Clark and Roy Goodson for Daddy Dick's of Belle Glade.

Marguerite Maxwell was general chairman of the fashion show and dinner. Assisting her on the food committee were Gethie Friend, Bonnie Miller, Katherine Powell, Clark Wilkinson and Louise Meeks. Ethel Johnson was in charge of the decorations; and Carlene Raby, the ticket sales and promotion.

Becky Bush, Alys Nagler, Janice Pilcher and Terri Thomas assisted in serving the guests during the dinner.

Huge bouquets of spring flowers brightened the dining room, courtesy of the Rose Petal Florist Shop of Belle Glade, owned by Mrs. Vera Weeks. Especially beautiful was the large vase of birds of paradise and the deep purple iris. The tables were centered with Easter egg nest arrangements.

The drawing for door prizes topped off the evening's entertainment. Among the lucky winners were Henry Snyder, Mary Ellen VanWinkle, Mrs. Eustis Blackbill, Mrs. Francis Cross, Ruby Kemp, Lois Zaccagnino, Tina Johnson, Phara Morris, Susan Rozelle, Louise Hodges, Paul Collier, Doris Wetherington, Louis Norman, Mrs. John E. Campbell, Judy Maxwell, Ena Keen, Clark Wilkinson, Ilmae Lampi, Beverly Hafferman and Claudia Padgett.

Passmore-Foster announce plans

Announcement is made of the engagement and forthcoming wedding of Miss Naomi Cindy Passmore of Homestead, to Kenneth L. Foster, who is serving in the United States Air Force, stationed at Homestead Air Force Base.

Miss Passmore is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse J. Passmore, Sr., of Clewiston, and a graduate of Clewiston High School with the class of 1975. While in school, she served as a member of the annual staff, student council, cheerleading squad, F.H.A., and in the Homecoming Court. Voted as Miss Interact, Miss C.H.S., "Most Popular" and "Biggest Flirt" by her classmates, she was also selected as Miss Hendry County in 1974. Currently Miss Passmore is employed by the Barnett Bank in Homestead, with the special service department.

Mr. Foster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley E. Foster of Royal Palm Beach, and a former resident of Belle Glade, where he graduated from the Glades Central High School in 1975. In school, he was a member of the AAA All-State Basketball team, participated in the executive intership program and selected "Biggest Flirt" by his classmates. In the Air Force, Mr. Foster serves as an administrative specialist.

The wedding will take place in June with final plans to be announced at a later date.

Mills-Herring tell of wedding plans

PAHOKEE—Mr. and Mrs. James D. Mills of 142 S. Greenstar Ave., announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dianne to Jimmy Herring, son of Mrs. Elizabeth L. Berring of 199 N. Elm Ave, and the late James M. Herring.

Both are graduates of the Glades Day School 'Class of 1973'. Dianne attended Jones College in Jacksonville where she received her diploma in secretarial science and is currently employed at the Bank of Pahokee. Jimmy will graduate from Stetson University on May 15, receiving a B.A. degree in Business Administration.

The couple are planning to be married June 11, and final wedding plans will be announced at a later date.

Sasser speaks to Hospital Auxiliary

PAHOKEE—The March 22 meeting of the Everglades Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, held in the hospital dining room at 7 p.m. with President Linnae Lampi presiding, featured a covered-dish dinner with husbands of members invited to enjoy the delicious meal and join the Auxiliary in hearing an interesting and informative talk by the guest speaker, James Paul Sasser of Pahokee, who recently returned to the states after six months of service with the U.S. Peace Corps in Swaziland, Africa. Sasser taught agriculture and sciences at the Nazarene Mission School during his stay in Swaziland. Illustrating his talk with color slide projections of photographs he took while in Africa, he told of the peculiar and often fascinating folkways of the African natives, and had on display at the meeting several unique articles of native craftsmanship which he had brought back from Africa.

Introduced by Program Chairman Marjorie Laks, the speaker said at the close of his talk: his experiences in Africa as a Peace Corps volunteer had been so interesting and educational that he would enjoy returning to Swaziland again before his 27 months of residency agreement expires.

Founders Day planned by local sororities

PAHOKEE—Beta Sigma Phi City Council meet at the Pahokee Everglades Federal Community Room on the afternoon of March 25 with Judy Maxwell, president, presiding.

During this meeting several chairmen were appointed to draw up policies for city council functions. A Founder's Day report was given by Chairman Catherine Kennedy. Founders Day will be held at the Pahokee Elks Club on Friday, April 29, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Members of Beta Sigma Phi will honor their mothers and new pledges.

The next meeting will be held on Thursday April 28, beginning at 4:30 in the Everglades Federal Community Room.

"Godspell" coming

PAHOKEE—"Godspell" a contemporary version of the Gospel of St. Matthew, a full length color film containing vibrant music will be shown at the Church of the Holy Nativity on April 5, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

No admission will be charged. The public is warmly welcomed and urged to attend.

MEN WORKING

This is the sign that should be lifted high in our beloved country — "Men Working." Men working with all they have and are, for a country that must show the world how to live in brotherhood and love and peace under God.

Let us resolve to dedicate anew our lives and our talents to our country and our God when we attend church

MEN AND EQUIPMENT WORKING

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Chamber announces STAR student

PAHOKEE—The Pahokee Chamber of Commerce has announced the selection of Paulette Fields, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Fields of 392 Shirley Drive, as this year's S.T.A.R. Student.

The S.T.A.R. Student award is a scholarship made available to high school juniors through the State Chamber of Commerce. This is the fourth year that Pahokee has been involved in this program.

The Student Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) student is selected among a group of eleventh graders who submit applications to the high school, according to Vance Denton, Pahokee High School guidance counselor.

The selection committee is composed of 1) a member of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors, who is also a member of the education committee; 2) the school steering committee—teachers; and 3) the school advisory committee—people from the community, Denton said.

The award recognizes those superior in academics and the free enterprise system. In addition to competing a resume, Denton said, the students must complete a economic awareness survey to evaluate their knowledge of the economic system. Students voluntarily submit applications if they would like to be considered for the scholarship.

The STAR student is a way of recognizing juniors, Denton said.

Palm Sunday services set at First Baptist

Pastor Roy Miller of the Belle Glade Church of God announced that he would be preaching on "CHRIST'S TRIUMPHAL ENTRY INTO JERUSALEM" this Sunday morning at the 11 a.m. service.

Candlelight Holy Communion will be observed at the 7 p.m. service. There will be special singing in both services by the Melody Three Trio, the Miller Trio and others.

Come thou with us and we will do thee good.

as they are often overshadowed by the recognition of high school seniors.

Miss Field's resume is now being judged against fourteen others making up the 11th Congressional District of Florida. The local Chamber of Commerce will present Miss Fields with a certificate at their annual dinner meeting to be held on May 6 at the Pahokee Elks Club.

Lake East Cookin'

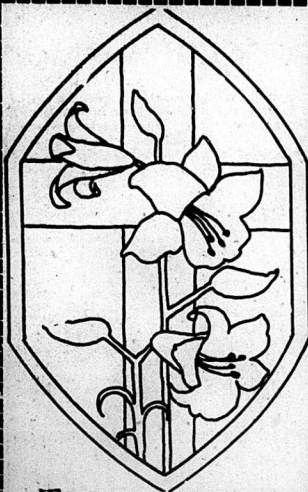

PAHOKEE—This week's recipe of the week was submitted by Mrs. Amy Lee of 272 Annona Ave. Mrs. Lee is originally from Williamsport, Pennsylvania. She is the mother of three children and has nineteen grandchildren, thirty-six great grandchildren and one great, great grandchild.

Listing as her hobbies, Mrs. Lee enjoys riding her three wheel bike and making baby cribs. A member of the Holy Nativity Episcopal Church, Church Guild and Hospital Auxiliary Mrs. Lee commented that she began making this recipe of bread when she was seventeen.

HOMEMADE BAKED BREAD

1 qt plus 1 pt warm water
2 heaping Tbsp sugar
1 cup powdered milk
1 level Tbsp salt
3 packs dry yeast
3/4 cup melted Crisco
5 lbs flour

Mix all ingredients in sequence using only half of the flour. Knead for fifteen minutes in kneading pan. Add remaining flour and continue to knead until dough forms soft balls. Cover and let stand between 1 and 1 1/2 hours, until dough begins to rise to the top of the container. Knead down once, take out and place dough into greased loaf pans. Bake at 350° for 50 minutes. After baking for the first 25 minutes turn the dough.

Wind interferes, but fish are biting

by Nan Corbin

The wind interfered with fishing in the Belle Glade area over the past few days; however, most of the fishermen who were able to find calm water reported good catches of both bass and bluegills.

The new Blue Plum Firetail worm by Hummer Hawk was the best bet for that limit catch of bass over the weekend, according to Ken McIntosh of Pahokee who fished with Sam Wright of West Palm Beach on Friday and came in with 20 bass caught. Ken and Bruce Konrady of Pahokee fished together on Saturday and reported 20 more on the same worm.

Danny Logan of Clearmont took 7 bass to 5 1/2 pounds each on Tuesday.

John Weygant of Ft. Lauderdale reported his limit of 10 bass on Monday and again on Tuesday. W.J. Bell of Belle Glade used live minnows to take his limit of specks off the dock in the Belle Glade marina on Tuesday night.

West Palm Beach fisherman Bobby Soles took his limit of bass on Saturday using plastic worms. Doug Davis and Bret Conway of Belle Glade reported 15 bass on Saturday.

Bruce Williams took Bobby Bishop out on Sunday and reported a nice catch of bass with Bobby getting a 9 1/2 pounder on live bait.

John Miller of Miami weighed in a 7 pounder on Sunday.

Bob and Linda Scroggins reported their limit of bluegills and shellcrackers on Sunday using worms.

THE WINNERS when it came to counting the returns for the Fifth Annual March of Dimes Glades Walk-a-thon were Judy Huggins and Laura Zumpf in Belle Glade, followed by Marsha Womack, not pictured. County Executive Director Bo Stine (beside Laura) also presented a trophy to Steve Kemp, who came in first in speed and second in collections in Pahokee. First place for collections in Pahokee was taken by Ann Welty and third by Connie Sullivan. Staff Photo

Bowling tourney set in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE—A newly formed tournament committee at Triangle Center is organizing the first-ever ABC-WIBC sanctioned bowling tournament in the Belle Glade area with a chance for local bowlers to be recognized by organized bowling.

The tournament, which will take place from 1 to 5 p.m., April 23, 24 and 30 and May 1, 7 and 8, is being organized by committee co-chairmen Robert Musk and Gary Stroupe.

"For those bowlers who didn't have the chance to compete in the county and state tournaments, and even those who did," Musk said, "here is another opportunity to prove their ability."

Musk said copies of tournament rules and entry blanks are available at the bowling desk at Triangle Center.

Musk said he estimates there will be 40 teams of four persons each, with some bowlers on more than one team. He said the rules will offer a chance for multiple entries and there should be enough openings to allow bowlers from every team in an organized league to take part.

He said there would be cash prizes and trophies to be won during the three-week tournament.

The deadline for entering the tournament is April 14. Musk said further information can be obtained by calling him at 996-5872, Stroupe at 996-3016 or Triangle Center at 996-3275.

Resource management meet set

BELLE GLADE—A resource management program on "Sharing Your Talents" will be presented for those interested from 10 a.m. to noon April 13 at the Palm Beach County Glades Office Building on US 441.

The program is being presented by the Cooperative Extension Service, according to Mrs. Arlene C. Jones, Extension Home Economics Agent III.

Included in the presentation will be ways to increase the productivity of leisure time by good planning, ways of using, containing gardens, around the house, the use of hanging baskets and terrariums, all to be demonstrated.

City makes up with CATV

BELLE GLADE—City Commissioners seemed more than satisfied Monday night with the answers they received from Southeast Cablevision, Inc. after deciding two weeks ago to let the company know the city might void the franchise unless they provide information requested some time ago.

"I jumped on Southeast Cablevision pretty strong at the last meeting," said Commissioner Tom Altman, one of the more vociferous at that meeting, "and I'd like to say they've supplied us with the information we needed and the subscriber count has even been certified."

Altman said he was more than satisfied with the information supplied by the cable television company and the company's cooperation and said there should be no problem if individual customers get the same response to complaints and questions the city has received.

Altman said there was a misunderstanding on his part at the last commission meeting on the customer count, his major complaint at that time, but the misunderstanding was cleared up shortly after by Southeast General Manager Harry Franklin and a letter from an independent firm attesting the validity of the count given.

The commissioner had complained he had been told recently in a meeting with Franklin the customer count was approximately 2,800 but he had heard the count was more than 2,800 some time ago.

The count is significant because when it reaches 3,500, the company's franchise requires it to provide local programming along with other services not now provided.

Franklin said this week the company's total subscriber count is more than 3,000 but the count inside the Belle Glade city limits is 2,266.

Altman, and other commissioners, also said that while they have heard a number of complaints about outages from customers and interference from cables by non-customers, few of those complaints have come recently.

Franklin said there were a large number of legitimate complaints about six months ago but most of the problems causing those complaints have been solved.

"During the last three months," he said, "we've had 15 outages. Only one of those was the fault of our equipment." He said reasons for the other outages were power outages, extreme weather and cables being shot in two.

"Our service calls," Franklin wrote the commissioners in a letter answering charges from the last meeting, "have been reduced from an average of 60 per week in July and August, 1976 to 35 per week during Jan. and Feb."

"This is a 42 per cent improvement," he said. "The current level is generally considered to be lower than might normally be incurred. We have just completed rebalancing our entire plant. Any subscribers who have less than a satisfactory picture should contact the Cablevision office."

The dramatization was written by Dr. Ernest K. Emurian, a Norfolk, Va. minister. It was first performed in the local church 14 years ago but there has been a four year lapse since the last performance.

Of the 16 member cast, seven have taken part since the first performance. The cast, besides Jesus and the Disciples, also includes Leonardo, his assistant, portrayed by Daniel Poling, and Clarence Kidder, who is the narrator.

Other cast members include Philip Dulaney as James the Lesser, Pat Murphy as James, Gene Duff as Andrew, Homer Hand as Philip, Lonas Amerine as John, Carey Wall as Simon the Zealot, Joe Crockett as Nathaniel, Danny Mathis as Judas, Jen Norris as Matthew, David Campbell as Peter, John Cowart as Thomas, Findley Pate as Thaddeus and Joe Clayton as Jesus.

Dolly Hand and Mary Alma Stevenson are the directors, Sue Klidder is the coordinator, Miriam Dulaney is in charge of publicity and music is by Elizabeth Weirsgo.

black kids out of the area." "Black kids are being bused in now," Dean said. "If we wanted to keep blacks out, we'd be against that too. The trouble is that any time you oppose something, you're a bigot and a racist. There's no barrier in this town between blacks and whites. Ten years ago, maybe, but not now."

Commissioners Aubrey Farmer, Altman and Greer told the residents in the chamber that if they didn't want the park development, no one wanted to

"cram it down your throats."

"I know the people in the neighborhood think of the park as a neighborhood park," City Manager Robert Sanders said, "but I have to think of it as a city park, because it is a city park. But these plans are being presented to the commission because you have to start somewhere."

Sanders told the commissioners and the audience he believed the entire plan, as first proposed, could be accomplished for $50,000 and he believed the entire cost could be covered by a federal

Friday Mrs. Murray's BSCS classes took a trip to St. Mary's Hospital in West Palm Beach to tour the facilities there.

At the start of the tour they were given a brief description of the qualifications for some of the different fields available in medicine. Then they were divided into groups. Each group toured four major departments of the hospital, the lab, radiology, respiratory therapy and electroencephalography.

Also while they were in West Palm Beach the classes went to the Palm Beach Mall to view the Regional Science Fair projects.

Janice Brown, a sophomore at GCCIS, received the Honorable Mention ribbon in the Regional Science Fair Friday. Her project, entitled "One Man, Two Hearts", was in the Health and Medicine category. It dealt with heart transplants.

She previously won the first place trophy in the West Area Science Fair in the Biological category with the same project.

Thursday, March 31, from 9-12 a.m. is our annual Career Day. As a result of a student survey to choose the fields most interesting, guest speakers are asked to give a talk on the different aspects and opportunities of jobs in their field.

This year 45 subjects have been chosen and we have 48 speakers. Each lecture lasts approximately one hour. Each student has the opportunity to listen to three different speakers.

There are a few big name speakers who were invited; however, we are trying to involve community interest in the school as well as school interest in the community.

Belle Glade will supply water to Rardin Park

BELLE GLADE—The City Commission decided Monday night to cooperate with Palm Beach County in a $46,000 effort to provide drinking water to Rardin Park on SR715 following a request by County Commissioner Bill Bailey.

Bailey, a former city commissioner, said the county has budgeted $20,000 to help pay for an eight inch line to the park, a project considered in the past by the city commission because there are several areas on the way which have requested city water.

Bailey told the commissioners in a letter he has informally discussed supplying water to the park with both the Belle Glade Commission and the Pahokee City Council but "the tentative cost of extending the line...has been determined prohibitive."

Belle Glade dentist Mendal

Luce, who was in the audience, suggested the city should allow the county to pay the full price of the extension but Commissioner Tom Altman said the city has wanted to lay the line for some time and while the $20,000 provided by the county is less than half the cost, it is help.

City Public Works Director Ron Sigmund estimated the project will cost the city a total of $44,564 if city crews do the work. He said a six inch line would cost $10,000 less but the commission decided the larger line is desirable.

In other discussions concerning water, Luce asked the commission when the cloudiness he has experienced in his water lines will be cleared up.

City Manager Robert Sanders said the cloudiness has been caused by defective sand filters at the treatment plant. The filters have been repaired and the city is now flushing the entire system.

Another complaint came from the audience on the low water pressure in the Southeast section of the city and Sanders noted crews are expected to begin looping an eight inch line east of Vinegar Bend to Duda Road and back which is expected to increase pressure in the entire section.

Sanders said the work is expected to begin within the month. He said another looping is going to be made east of Hooker Highway. The three major water projects, he said, have all been budgeted for this year and funds are available.

TRIANGLE PARK in Canal Point is equipped with picnic tables, bar-b-que grills, trees and a serene atmosphere. It is maintained by the county but has not been getting much use, according to area residents. It is open to the public and provides a nice picnic area.

Triangle Park is relaxing place

PAHOKEE—If you want a quiet, out-of-the-way place to go that is well-maintained and equipped for picnics, parties or solitude stop by Triangle Park in Canal Point.

located just east of the Canal Point PDQ.

The park contains three pavilions, three bar-b-que grills and picnic tables and is situated amongst large orchid trees. It also offers attractive open space and a foot bridge.

The park was completed last fall and is maintained by the parks department of Palm Beach County, but some Canal Point residents are concerned that it is not being used. The park was upgraded as an improvement for the city.

Although the park is often in solitude, "It must be getting some use," said Carl Springer, one of the five persons responsible for maintaining the west area parks. "Since the garbage cans are often full."

Five projects in the area are maintained by the county. They are Paul Rardin Park, John Stretch Park, Triangle Park, Canal Point Community Park, and the museum in Lake Harbor.

Future plans for Triangle Park include the installation of restrooms. "It's a nice little spot for a picnic," Springer commented.

Reynolds recycling sets Pahokee visits

PAHOKEE—Reynolds mobile aluminum recycling unit will be making two stops in Pahokee during April.

Every other THURSDAY, April 14 and 28 from 2 to 2:30 p.m., the unit will be at the Little League Ball Park, 515 Bacom Point Road. Reynolds pays 17 cents a pound for aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum items such as pie pans, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dip, pudding and meat containers. Certain other types of clean aluminum items may be redeemed at a slightly lower price.

"Now that spring is here with its warm, mild weather, people will be enjoying the outdoors and consuming more beverages in aluminum cans," according to David Vardell, Reynolds district manager for aluminum recycling.

"Picnics, beach parties and backyard bar-b-ques are good opportunities to start collecting aluminum cans and foil for recycling," Vardell added, "the money saved from recycling aluminum could come in very handy on summer vacation."

Mr. David Carney of Canal Point advised the Observer that the growing number of fishermen in the area has resulted in a large increase of littering of aluminum cans. "The more cans there are, the better the fishing is," he said. If you are an aluminum collector check into the fishing spots in Canal Point for additional collection.

Jr. Miss is set

BELLE GLADE—Vying for the title of "Miss Jr. Miss" of the Elite Community Club is Debbie Hunter. Debbie lives with her grandmother, Mrs. Lela Mae Thornton. She is ten years old and in the fifth grade at South Bay Elementary School. Her hobbies are reading, skating and bicycle riding. Debbie's sponsors are: Mrs. Brenda Montgomery, Mrs. Eva Jeece, and Mrs. Josephine Harrison.

The contest will take place this coming Friday at 8 p.m. at Glades View Elementary School, admission will be adults 50 cents, students 25 cents.

Businesses

must file by April

David L. Reid, Palm Beach County Property Appraiser, wishes to announce that if you own any type of business on January 1, Florida Law requires that you file a return with the Property Appraiser on or before April 1, listing all business furniture, fixtures, machinery, equipment, supplies, and inventory, including all livestock.

Florida Law also requires a return on all rental income property such as hotels, motels, and apartments. Homeowners are not required to file a return on their household goods and personal effects unless they are being used as a rental.

Florida Law has set penalties for filing after April 1 and for failure to file. For filing after April 1, there is a penalty of 5% per month not to exceed 25%. For failure to file, there is a 50% penalty the second year and 75% penalty the third year.

If you own a business or rental property and have not already filed a return for 1977, you must do so by April 1. If you need a return or assistance, please call our Tangible Personal Property Department, 887-2886.

Volunteer firemen need equipment

PAHOKEE—A communication problem and lack of equipment were the predominant problems discussed at a meeting between the city council and the Pahokee Volunteer Fire Department.

"Our sincere hope is that the outcome of this meeting will result in better fire protection for the citizens of Pahokee and a more harmonious relationship between the volunteers and the council," spokesman Dick Korbly told the council.

"We have committed ourselves to this service to the extent that we sometimes have to expose ourselves to very real personal danger. We appear before you not as men playing firemen, but as your only fire department, comprised of volunteers from the community who are willing to take the risk to protect you and your property," Korbly said.

Council Chairwoman Wyonia Cummings informed the firemen that a new phone system will be installed May 6, which will incorporate a push button system of notifying firemen when there is a fire.

A major concern of the firemen was that they have no way of contacting each other when there is a fire, except by phone but "that doesn't do you any good when you're not at home," Korbly said. Thus they requested a pager system whereby each fireman would have a portable unit attached to their belts that would transmit fire calls.

Although Fire Chief Cecil Phillips recited the law of the State of Florida that volunteer firemen using individual vehicles shall not exceed the speed limit when going to a fire, Chairwoman Cummings expressed her understanding that "you are under a certain amount of tension when you are going to a fire. If I were a fireman and I was going to a fire and the road was reasonably clear, I'd probably go a little bit over the speed limit. It's human nature."

"We don't have time to get the history on a call, 90% of the people are so excited, sometimes they don't even give the right address," volunteer Charles Jernigan said. "We don't know who's trapped in it, if you've got an invalid or anyone else," he said.

In addition to the need for equipment, the firemen requested an additional two volunteers that would bring the total to 12.

Council members stressed the use of a communication channel.

Councilman Ray Hatton said "you should meet and put your request in writing and give it to the chief." "That's the direct channel; go to the chief, if you don't get results from him, go to a council member. Somewhere down the line you should get results," Councilman Norman told the volunteers.

"The chief is there as your leader. He should serve as a co-heive force," Chairwoman Cummings said. She also recommended the institution of monthly meetings of the volunteer fire department. "It would give you unity as a group and it would be a chance to discuss any problems you might have. It would benefit everybody," Cummings stated.

The firemen compiled a list of equipment that they desire and will apply for a federal matching-funds grant for the purchase. The grant application will be referred to Adley & Associates for completion.

One reason for the meeting was that both the council and the volunteers had heard rumors about the other concerning the firemen's service and the council's views on the fire department. The firemen expressed their thanks to the council for their positive response to their requests.

CITY OFFICIALS and representatives of the Area Planning Board, Community Development and Adley Associates, the city's consultants, took a tour of Pahokee Monday to reappraise the availability of land for parks in the city. Tour of city shows need for recreation PAHOKEE—City Officials were given positive hope for assistance in the development of parks in Pahokee during a tour of the area by Mayor Padgett, city council members and representatives of the area planning board, community development (CD) and Adley Associates, consultants.

The group's first stop was the Pahokee Municipal Park where a pavilion large enough to hold 200 people comfortably will be constructed. Four restrooms will be located in the existing building at the park.

A lakefront park project is already in the planning stages "but this would be aimed toward adults," Community Development Director Ansell Jeffries said. "You're not going to get many of the kids from across town coming over here (to the lake) for recreation."

The area that appears to be most desirable as the location for a park serving other Pahokee residents is a 15-acre parcel of land on the south side of Stuckey Village.

"We need to correct recreation to the youth, with very active sports," he noted. "If you don't develop the land for recreation, you won't have anything for the kids, and that will become apparent in the summer."

Jeffries suggested that the city acquire the land and then proceed to develop it as is possible. "If you can't develop it immediately, it could be developed over a period of years. You don't always have to have everything right away."

The purpose of the tour was to conduct a reappraisal of the nine plus acres of park space available. The representatives found a need for parks since, although the city has nine acres of parks, they are not adequate for recreation. The group looked at four existing parks, two of which "are not a park in recreation sense," according to Jeffries. The city has the municipal park, Exoria Park, the state park and Pioneer Park. Pioneer Park is a memorial ground and Exoria Park is a median strip, both non-recreational areas.

Community Development is granting funds to the city for the construction of the park pavilion. Doug Dawson of CD said $70,000 is budgeted for the pavilion with the possibility of a cost over-run.

In getting assistance from CD Jeffries said they mandate that the city use its own resources and the resources available to them, from state and federal agencies as much as possible.

Van Winkle appointed PHA Executive Director

PAHOKEE—Although no formal action could be taken Monday at the Pahokee Housing Authority (PHA) Board of Commissioners workshop meeting, the commissioners did agree to hire Mary Van Winkle as executive director of the authority.

Miss Van Winkle has been serving in the capacity of acting director since the resignation of past Executive Director James Tischer. Van Winkle formerly held the position of accountant of the PHA.

As advertised, the executive director will receive a salary of $18,700 plus fringe benefits that include housing and use of an automobile.

In addition to the appointment of an executive director, the board has created a new position of assistant executive director and plans to promote a clerk to the position of bookkeeper. That will necessitate the hiring of two additional employees, a clerk and an assistant director who will also serve as secretary, since Mrs. Jo Forcucci will be vacating the position of secretary on April 8.

"We need to train someone from the bottom up," Commissioner Robert Apolgren said, "and give them a decent salary."

"If Miss Van Winkle is relieved of inside duties, she can do alot more," Commissioner James Harry Wilkinson said. The board gave Van Winkle the duty of locating a person to fill the position as assistant, expressing their desire that the person be a man.

All the commissioner's agreed that Miss Van Winkle has done an excellent job and deserves the position of executive director, granting her complete authority of the PHA workings. They also expressed regret that Mrs. Forcucci will be leaving the authority due to the traveling involved in commuting to and from work, from Royal Palm Beach to Pahokee.

Six candidates qualify for city council seats

PAHOKEE—City council qualifiers are in a three and three race for Groups I and II.

William E. "Billy" McKinstry has qualified to run in Group I against incumbent J. Ray Hatton and Marie Funderburk.

McKinstry was appointed in November, 1960 to fill an unexpired term and, in 1961, ran successfully for the remaining year of his term. In 1962, he qualified for a council seat but was defeated by a four margin.

He is employed by Southern Bell as a switchman in the Pahokee Central office. He has worked with Southern Bell for 14 years, previously owning Billy's Boats and Motors in Pahokee for 16 years. McKinstry has been a resident since 1930.

Those who have already qualified for Group II, the seat soon to be vacated by A.J. Gamot, Sr. are Curtis Miners, Thomas McMahon and Ross pear.

City Clerk Betty McCoy advises all prospective candidates that the deadline for filing is tomorrow, April 1, and those qualifying tomorrow will have to make a trip, themselves, to West Palm Beach to have their petitions certified by Supervisor of Elections, Jackie Winchester. The election will be held on May 8.

Atheletes honored at banquet

PAHOKEE—Pahokee High School athletes were honored Tuesday night at a special football-basketball athletic banquet held at the Sweden House in Riviera Beach.

"The purpose of this banquet is to treat you all for what you've done for us," Head Football Coach Antoine Russell told the athletes.

Those who were presented trophies for football excellence were: Michael Osborne, most outstanding defensive back; James Burroughs, most valuable defensive back; Ronnie Osborne, offensive leadership award; Bernard Jackson, most improved offensive back; Joe Freeman, leading rusher and Leroy Jackson, most valuable of defensive back.

"He was a problem but the nucleus of our football team," said Coach Russell of Bernard Marvin, most versatile lineman. Billy Cunningham was the most improved offensive lineman, unsung defensive lineman was John Pringle and Nathaniel Adams, most improved defensive lineman.

Vince Bush was named Rookie of the Year. "I guess we would have made it without him but it probably would have been a struggle," Russell said. Rickey Jackson was chosen, best athlete.

To show his appreciation to a "good, strong, dedicated coaching staff," Coach Russell presented plaques to each of his football coaches.

Head basketball coach Eddie Lee Rhodes presented the basketball trophies. Each member of the Class AA State Championship basketball team, the Pahokee Blue Devils, received individual basketball trophies in addition to special awards.

"We won the district, the regional, the sectional and, most of all, we won the state championship," Rhodes said. "We practiced on Saturdays and Sundays and I had mothers mad at me," he said, "but they all found out what it's all about at the end," when those parents met the team and coaches in Pahokee on their return from the championship.

Coach Rhodes introduced the most valuable player with a list of his accomplishments, which include being team leading scorer; third leading rebounder; a 32 point scorer in one of the state championship games and a 34 point scorer in the final championship game. Most valuable player and team captain was James Burroughs.

Others receiving basketball trophies were: Ronnie Rainey, outstanding defensive player; John Pringle, most outstanding offensive player and Bradwell Parchment, unsung hero (an award given by the Palm Beach Times). A special plaque was presented to Pahokee Jr.-Sr. High School Principal Jack Redding as a memorial to Head Secretary Janet Hall who was killed in an automobile accident earlier this year. The plaque bears the names of all of the basketball players on the championship team. As added appreciation for her outstanding service, Coach Rhodes said they will have the words "in memory of Janet Hall" inscribed in the Class AA State Championship Basketball trophy.

Society holds house, garden tour

BELLE GLADE-The Glades Auxiliary of the Children's Home Society presented its Fourth Annual House and Garden Tour on Sunday afternoon, March 27.

The tour was enjoyed by more than 150 Glades residents and guests from West Palm Beach.

This year the honor guest was Miss Karen Borchers, the executive Director of the South-coastal Division of the Children's Home Society, located in West Palm Beach.

The gardens and homes visited by the Auxiliary and their patrons included those of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Kidder and Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Stein, Jr.

Everyone then traveled to the Big B Ranch where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alvaro Sanchez and assisted by Mrs. Diego Jimenez and Mrs. Carlos Penna in touring the exquisite hacienda and gardens.

Refreshments were served in the living room of the hacienda by the Auxiliary members.

The Children's Home Society of Florida, a statewide, private organization, has been providing a wide range of services to children and families since 1902, this year marking their 75th anniversary.

The proceeds raised by the Auxiliary are donated to the Children's Home Society Medical Fund, which services children born with medical disabilities.

Aluminum unit stops in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE-Reynolds mobile aluminum recycling unit will be making four stops in Belle Glade during April.

Every THURSDAY from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., the unit will be at the City Park, 500 W. Canal Street.

Reynolds pays 17 cents a pound for aluminum beverage cans and other clean household aluminum items such as pie pans, foil, frozen food and dinner trays and dip, pudding and meat containers. Certain other types of clean all-aluminum items may be redeemed at a slightly lower price.

"Now that spring is here with its warm, mild weather, people will be enjoying the outdoors and consuming more beverages in aluminum cans," according to Dave Vardell, Reynolds DDistrict Manager for aluminum recycling.

"Picnics, beach parties and backyard barbecues are good opportunities to start collecting aluminum cans and foil for recycling," Vardell added, "the money saved from recycling aluminum could come in very handy on summer vacation."

Parker completes training

Marine Private Jack A. Parker, whose guardians are Mr. and Mrs. E.L. Miller of 327 S. Main St., Belle Glade, has completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

During the 11-week training cycle, he learned the basics of battlefield survival. He was introduced to the typical daily routine that he will experience during his enlistment and studies the personal and professional standards traditionally exhibited by Marines.

He participated in an active physical conditioning program and gained the proficiency in variety of military skills, including first aid, rifle marksmanship and close order drill. Teamwork and self-discipline were emphasized throughout the training cycle.

Famous American personalities give advice to local students

BELLE GLADE—A number of Glades Central English students have been hob-nobbing with the likes of President Jimmy Carter, U.S. Representative Barbara Jordan, Georgia State Senator Julian Bond and other bigwigs in business and the arts in an ongoing letter writing campaign.

Mrs. Sonja Lutz started the campaign because she said she little experience in letter-writing and this would be good practice while a personal tone was set by having the replies sent to the student's home.

Most of the letters were individual efforts but the letter to the President was a composite effort and his reply was a simple thank-you note with the comment,

"It is encouraging to know that young people like yourself are concerned about the future of America."

One of the more immediate answers came to Willie Mae Bowers, who wrote poet Gwendolyn Brooks asking her for "some information on how to write poetry and how to feel it as I write."

"Hi!" came the reply on the same sheet of paper. "FIRST you feel, and THEN you write! Write about what you know, see, hear, feel in your own fresh language."

But if Miss Brooks' reply was a direct, to-the-point answer to the question, many of the replies advised the students to continue their educations and to build a self-discipline. There were also a number of biographical sketches enclosed with the replies.

One of the most-repeated requests made by the students was advice for a Black teenager today, and it drew a variety of responses.

August Baker, the recently retired coordinator of Children's Services for the New York Library System, said one of the most important things for a Black teen to remember is that it is working and living in a greater society.

"We must learn to read and speak the prevailing English of today," he wrote. "Be proud to be Black but be equipped to compete in the job market with whites."

"Analyze yourself," wrote poet Mari Evans of Indianapolis. "It will take a lifetime. Don't be ashamed of your weaknesses, deal with them; don't be arrogant and vain about your strengths...share them with those people who need them most."

"Read everything...that speaks to you about the society you live in. Decide some of the things that must be done; know what you can do; how you fit into the overall picture. If there are areas you really can affect (and there will be) you won't need to be rhetorically in support of something you can be actively in support of."

"I doubt that I can provide any real valuable pearls of wisdom for Black teenagers in today's society," New Rochelle, N.Y. banker William Branch wrote Nathaniel Strachan. "Like those of the past, I suspect, today's teenagers already have a pretty good idea of 'where it's at' and what they need to do to get there."

"The rest," Branch said, "is really up to each of you, individually, to make those hard but honest decisions that will move you forward toward those values that are meaningful and lasting, rather than merely popular and temporarily satisfying."

Seminar is set in Belle Glade

PAHOKEE—Gene Joyner, Urban Horticulturist, Palm Beach County Cooperative Extension Services, will be conducting slide-illustrated seminars on the selection and use of shade and flowering trees at the Belle Glade Courthouse on Friday, April 1 beginning at 9 a.m. for the April Monthly Seminar.

DEPUTY SHERIFF FRANK PERRY and FHP Trooper Russell Henderson confer at the scene while EMT from the Pahokee Ambulance Service rush to lend assistance.

Ambulance service "gets the job done"

PAHOKEE—Pahokee Ambulance Services is serving the public with qualified personnel and completely advanced life-support equipment, being one of only two services in the county, out of ten, that is so equipped. The other service that offers advanced life support is Quality Services in Boca Raton.

According to Pahokee Ambulance Services Director Bobby Shackford, they are averaging four runs a day. The service covers zone nine, an area from Rardin Park to the Martin County Line and the pumphouse at 20 mile bend (499 miles).

Pahokee's Ambulance service has been in operation for three years. "It started out with one ambulance and 12 volunteers," Shackford said, "and now we have two ambulances that are both fully equipped with advanced life support: we have two full-time employees, three part-time employees and 22 volunteers."

The life-support equipment includes IV's, drugs, cardiac monitoring and a defibrillator. Both full-time employees, Shackford and Assistant Director Danny Jaume, are paramedics and one is an

Thursday morning, the Pahokee Ambulance Service was notified of a disaster in Clewiston, to which they responded. Instead of a disaster, it was a training exercise conducted by the Hendry General Hospital, an example of the constant training members of the service go through.

Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) I, Shackford said. An EMT I must complete and 81 hour course of training while the EMT II, or paramedic, must complete a minimum of 450 hours of training. The ambulance service answers fire calls, wrecks, emergency medical treatment, anything requiring their help. And, although the service has 22 volunteers, they

Census survey is seeking data on home improvement and travel

Questions on spending for the improvement and upkeep of residential properties will be asked of a sample of households in this area by Bureau of the Census interviewers during the period of April 1-15, Thomas W. McWhirter, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Atlanta, announced today.

The home improvement survey, conducted four times a year, yields valuable information on this segment of the American economy of broad interest to the public and private sectors. The households in this area are among approximately 5,000 throughout the United States that will be included.

Total expenditures for the upkeep and improvement of residential properties in the third quarter of 1976 were $7.5 billion, or $25.1 billion at a seasonally adjusted annual rate. During 1976, the seasonally adjusted annual rate ranged from $22.9 to $26.7 billion.

Questions will also be asked in this month's survey about trips of 75 miles or more taken since January 1. These questions are part of the 1977 National Travel Survey. This survey, conducted every five years as part of the Census of Transportation, seeks information on the number of trips taken by U.S. households, the destination and purpose of those trips, the modes of transportation, and the types of lodging. The information is used by both government and private organizations to determine the impact of the travel industry on the economy and to provide data on travel patterns that can be used to improve transportation facilities.

The law requires that information reported to the Bureau of the Census must be held in strictest confidence. Published reports show statistical details only, and no information identifying individuals or households is released.

Census Bureau interviewers in this area are: Mrs. Betty Garriaga and Mrs. Doris K. Rosenberg.

THE THIRD ANNUAL Arts and Crafts Festival sponsored by the Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau for the Community Mental Health Center, Glades Branch is given the final touches by a planning board made up of Byron Smith, a drug counselor at the center, Edna Stokes of the Farm Bureau Lanes Auxiliary, Vivian Fate of the Auxiliary and treasurer of the Mental Health Center's Glades Advisory Committee, Branch Director Jean Cogar and Gene Cross, chairman of the steering committee. The festival will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center and last until 2 p.m.

Plans to be made for annual dinner

PAHOKEE—The Pahoee Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will hold their regular monthly meeting of the evening of April 4, beginning at 7:00 p.m. with president, Arthur Nagler, presiding.

Final plans will be made for the Annual Dinner Meeting which will take place at the Pahoee Elks Club on May 6. The principal speaker for the Annual Dinner will be Mr. Bill Fowler, District Engineer of the State Department of Transportation.

Washington's breakfast served

CANAL POINT—Although breakfast is served daily from 7:30 a.m. to 8:00 a.m. in the Canal Point Elementary cafeteria, last week two classes received special breakfasts.

Following a study of George Washington, having hoe cakes and hot tea for breakfast, Mrs. Debra Bowen's class decided to try this for themselves. Most southerners had tried hoe cakes, but northerners were surprised to find them a fried corn meal. Jayna Adams, Victoria Fowler, Karen Polk, Glenford Hibbert, Carl Bess, Brenda McWilliams, Lydia Yates, and Alice York furnished, prepared and served this unusual breakfast.

The delicious odor of the breakfast had the whole school staff hungry for hoe cakes so the next day, Harry Cunninghams furnished the ingredients and the staff got to sample George's breakfast.

Mrs. Mae Johnson's class planned and served a modern southern breakfast of scrambled eggs, sausage, buttered toast, grits, orange juice, and milk. The blessing was asked by Mitchell Harris and Arthur Snyder welcomed guests: Mrs. Kathryn Cunningham, principal; Mrs. Ann Alderman, administrative assistant; Mrs. Waiters from the school staff; Waiters were Mitchell Harris, Reginald Mickins, and Gabriel Hill.

Vida Cristiana Latina

ESCRIBE: Jose Antonio Garcia

Casi toda persona sobre la tierra cree que cuando muera va directo al cielo; pero si usted le pregunta: Como es el cielo?, ninguna le sabra dar una respuesta acertada, y si hubieran aguas, difícilmente habrian de coincidir.

Como tal vemos a personas haciendo promesas religiosas, para curarse ciertas enfermedades. Para mas larga vida otros hacen dietas, se someten a arriesgadas operaciones, viven bajo plan medidos, y aun se abstienen de ciertos placeres etc. El objetivo: "Vivir un poco mas la Tierra".

Si la creencia de ir al Cielo es una vida mejor, tuviera el apoyo de una seguridad absoluta (Esto es Fe) muchos dirian: "Mejor morir hoy que manana" y se harian eco de las palabras de San Pablo si tenia fe y aspiraciones celestiales: "Para mi la muerte es ganancia" Pero no sucede asi...

Por que sucede esto? Simplemente porque el hombre fue hecho de la tierra, y para vivir en la tierra; de ahi su apego a las cosas terrenales y su amor a este hermosa planeta.

Todo problema se resuelve facilmente por reduccion a la unidad, del mismo modo si vamos al comienzo de la humanidad veremos bien el asunto. El hombre como ya hemos dicho fue hecho del polvo de la tierra y para vivir en la tierra, por ende, es mas que logico el apego del hombre a las cosas terrenales y su deseo de vivir lo mas posible en el lugar a donde fue predestinado por el Creador "El planeta Tierra".

La ignorancia de lo que hay despues de la muerte, crea sufrimiento y panico, por la idea pagana de un "infierno de fuego" y un "purgatorio". Muchos tratan de amortiguarlo con la idea de "ir al cielo" y para algunos paganos la idea del: "Estado de Nirvana".

La Biblia es franca al explicar el asunto. Dios condeno al hombre a volver a la tierra antes de crearlo: "Al Genesis 3:19 dice: 'Con el sudor de tu rostro comeras el pan, hasta que vuelvas a la tierra, pues de ella has sido tomado, ya que polvo eres y al polvo volveras' (Tomado de la Biblia catolica Nacar Colunga pag. 31.)

Despues de la redencion o compra de la humanidad por Jesucristo, hay una promesa firme, tan firme como el Universo y esta es: "La Resurreccion"; esto es volver a la vida como humanos aqui en la tierra. Jesus nos advierte con palabras al decir: en el Evangelio de San Juan 5:28: Version Nacar Colunga pag. 1106, sobre la resurreccion: "No os maravilléis de esto, porque llega la hora en que todos estan en LOS SEPULCROS oiran una voz, y saliran los que han hecho bien para resurreccion de vida..."

Esta promesa de vida en la tierra para siempre esta en perfecta armonia con las declaraciones hechas por el profeta David en el Salmo 36:1, 29: Version Nacar Colunga pag. 614: "Pero los malos os poseeran (heredaran) la tierra gozaran de gran paz" "Los justos moraran en la tierra, y sera eterna en ella su morada" Este texto fue citado por Jesus en el Sermon del Monte Mat. 5:4. Bienaventurado los mansos porque ellos poseeran la tierra" Version Nacar Colunga Catolica pag. 999.

Por eso querido lector, la gran promesa de Yave (Jehova) es convertir este planeta en un paraíso, como fue en el principio de la Humanidad, para que el hombre viva eternamente. Esto esta en cumplimiento de las palabras de Jesus en el Padre Nuestro: "Venga tu Reino (Gobierno de Dios) y hagase tu voluntad aqui en la tierra como se hace en el cielo".

Investigue en su Biblia y vera que la promesa de vida en la tierra es algo real, firme, logico, y lo que en si anhela y necesita el genero humano. La humanidad clama por un gobierno perfecto, que es de lo que mas carece el hombre, y no esta lejos el dia en que disfrutara de el bajo el reino de Cristo Jesus.

No olvide que el testamento de Jesus tiene vigencia dado que el mundo y entre sus herencias no solo esta la vida fisica en perfeccion, como tambien esta la tierra como herencia de los santos. Mateo 5:4 Nacar Colunga Catolica.

Sales manager named, steak house to open soon

By Andy Campanaro

Frank Green Chrysler-Plymouth has a new sales manager.

New? Well, kind of. Ken Parker, 35, has worked in sales in Belle Glade before with Frank, but this time he's sales manager and he's here to stay.

Originally, Parker is from Arcadia, where he is moving from right now. He was in Belle Glade until three and a half years ago, then went to Arcadia where he had his own construction firm with some 30 employees working for him at his peak.

"But the crunch came in construction over there," Parker says, "and I got this offer here. I've always liked Belle Glade anyway, so I moved back."

Parker said he'd like to extend "an invitation to my many friends here in the Glades to come by and visit with me."

Soon his wife Diane, and three children, will be moved back into town. His children are Teresa, 13, Cindy, 11 and Ken Parker II, 10.

Celso Toledo and Jesus Castillo are new workers at J.M.G. Auto Supply (Amoco Service Station) and specialize in transmission work. The two Latinos do general service work, but specialize in transmissions, carrying to Belle Glade the training they received in Miami for five years for Lory Transmission Company.

Speaking of auto transmission, the Angel Brothers are opening a transmission shop on SR 715 in a couple of weeks. That's out near Chosen. The two men have a large following in this area and expect to do quite a good business.

Up on Main Street in Pahokee,

8B-HERALD-OBSERVER Thurs., March 31, 1977

Business

Fernando has rented out one of his buildings for a body shop. That's the white block building south of the Coca-Cola building and just north of Pahokee Ford.

Florida State Employment's Pat Meier dropped off something along the lines of an editorial. I think it's worthwhile enough to print here: "While Americans are being warned to conserve certain of our country's natural resources, we are wasting through lack of use one of its greatest resources, its older workers."

"There are 74 million people 40 years of age or older in this country. Many are out of work and cannot find a job, forced out of the job market because of the prejudice against older workers."

"Like other prejudices, it makes no sense when compared with the facts. Studies have brought to light many important points, such as: Functional ability is the true measure of a person's working capacity; employment of middle-aged and older workers results in significant savings to employers through reduced sick leave, lower turnover, a fewer job-related accidents."

"National Employ-the-Older-Worker Week" is a good time for all of us to examine our attitudes toward older workers. Employers should give special thought to this great source of reliable, productive employees. The person 40 and over looking for a job should assess his or her abilities and experience and be confident when seeking a job. When it comes to the American worker, we should remember that ability is ageless."

I'll say "amen" to that. I'm 33 myself and getting more valuable every year. Hoo-hah, as Cracker Crumb says.

Faith and begorrah! Oy vay! and Jimminy Crickets!

I was talking to the new manager of the new Steak N Omelette opening in South Bay (hopefully) this week. I'd talked to him two or three times before and I was asking him some rather common questions about himself in order to write him up in this column.

Name, age, and "where are you from, Ken?"

"Upstate New York."

Well, I'm from UP-state New York -- the Adirondack Mountains -- and I thought to myself: "Another joker from Albany, thinks he's from upstate New York."

"Exactly where is that, Ken?"

"Newcomb."

Hot dog! I'm from Chestertown and we played Newcomb regularly in football, basketball and baseball as part of the Marcy Conference. Seems that Ken and I had followed each other around this world almost place for place, but a few years apart from each other.

He graduated in 1962 with Dale Mitchell. Now Bill Harpinger and I were the two toughest meatheads on the football team and Dale Mitchell and I regularly got into it. Mitchell alternated between quarterback and end and myself and one Blaney Blodgett (who now lives in Middlebury, Vermont) creamed Mitchell more than once.

To make a long story short, Ken Sticklemy went to Albany Business College in 1964-66 and into the army just after I got out as a US (that's the invited type of private). He operated a restaurant in North Creek (where my ex-wife is from), got married to a Lynn girl over from Minerva (think John Cummings used to date her) and came to Florida in 1970.

So where does he come to live in Florida? Where else but Frost-proof, Polk County. And where am I working as a reporter? Lake Wales -- about 10 miles north, at the Daily Highlander.

Well, it took some 16 years, but Ken and I are going to hack it out over the golf course one of these days, and don't you think it's going to be good -- a Newcomb (North Marcy Conference champs) mouth-tamman competing with a Chestertown (South Marcy Conference champs) mountman once again.

Have a good week, folks.

Business Personality

Dale Bledsoe, manager of Glades Drugs, (Walgreen Agency) on Avenue A, is 39 years old and lives with his wife and four children at 659 SE 3rd Street.

Bledsoe was born in London, Kentucky, but left there when he was five years old to Uniontown, Ohio, where he completed high school.

Bledsoe took his pharmacy program at Kent State University and Ohio Northern University, then moved back to Akron where he worked for Peoples Drugs.

In 1962, he moved to Florida with his wife, Myrlee, who sells real estate for Bert Ward agency here. Bledsoe first worked for Jones Pharmacy in Tequesta, then Super X in North Palm Beach. He bought the old Glades Drugs business on Avenue A, and operated it for four and a half years, before selling it and moving to Ocala.

In beautiful Ocala, Dale worked for Walgreens, got a fer for the company's method of operations, then moved back here in 1976 to manage Glades Drugs again.

The Bledsoes' four children are Dale Lee, 18, who works for the city of Belle Glade, Dana, 16 and Steve, 12, both pupils at Glades Day School, and Sean, 9, who goes to Gove Elementary.

Students tell local club members of tour they made of Soviet Union

A program on Russia, from the viewpoint of touring students, was presented by Faith and J. P. Sasser at the luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Women's Club on March 25.

Introduced by Katherine Powell, chairman of the International Affairs Committee, the Sassers gave a unique account of life in Russia, illustrating their travelogue with colored slides.

James Paul Sasser and his sister, Faith, left Montreal, Canada in January 1976, with a group of students from the United States, on a trip to Czechoslovakia, Poland and Russia. It was strictly an educational trip with no luxuries. As students they were given an insight into the life and conditions in Russia that is not available to the average tourist.

Upon reaching Russia, they found traveling difficult. When buses were used, some were so cold that icicles hung down inside from the handrails. Hotel accommodations for the students were almost non-existent. Many times they slept on the floor in museums or banks. Soon they learned to stuff blankets around the windows to keep the cold out. The food was poor, often breakfast consisted of sauerkraut and hotdogs.

Each night the group met with other students for discussions and an exchange of viewpoints.

The Sassers brought out additional facts about Russia. The buildings are huge, as the Russians don't build anything small. Most of the people live in large apartment buildings and public housing units.

All the orthodox churches are now museums and open to the public. Women are the work force, since most of the men were killed in the wars.

Christmas trees are decorated and displayed in Russia, but to them it is to celebrate the New Year.

No one is permitted to drive a car inside the Kremlin. The city of Moscow has crows, instead of pigeons, as do the cities in the United States.

Color television is excellent in Russia. Their programs are cultural with no commercials, featuring travelogues and three hour movies.

It is uncommon to see two people dancing together, is another interesting fact. They dance as a group.

Among the outstanding slides shown, from the historic point of view, were the one showing the beautiful winter palace at Leningrad, built by Peter the Great, which contains three times as many works of art, as the Louvre in Paris.

Lovely, also, were the views of the summer palace, which originally had 1400 rooms before being destroyed in the war. However, it is being restored.

The most beautiful slide, artistically, was of an enormous tree, with every limb and twig covered with snow, looking like a scene from fairyland.

Carlene Raby, president, presided during the luncheon, and Uldene Todd, club chaplain, gave the invocation.

Others on the luncheon committee, assisting Mrs. Powell, were Bonnie Miller, Marion Maxson and Susan Rozelle.

Visitors, in addition to the guest speakers were Sarah Ann Dowdy and Louise Henderson.

The next meeting will be a business session on Wednesday, April 13.

ARTS AND CRAFTS which will be available for purchase at the Annual Arts and Crafts Festival at 11 a.m. Saturday at the Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center are demonstrated by Mrs. Vivian McKinstry (who is also a District 9 Mental Health Board Member), Nancy Creech, Beth Alford and Debra "Granny" Alunan, all members of the Glades Homemakers Club. Among the unusual items to be up for sale is the bonnet Mrs. Altman is holding, which can be converted into an apron. The proceeds of the festival will go to the Community Health Center, Glades Branch.

need more. "A lot of those volunteers are not available during the day," Shackford noted. "We need more volunteers."

In order to qualify as a volunteer, Shackford explained, one must 1) be 18 years old, 2) complete an advanced first aid course, 3) complete an EMT course and 4) complete a Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) course. Shackford is qualified to teach all three courses.

To qualify as an ambulance driver, one must 1) have a chauffeur's license, 2) complete an advanced first aid course, 3) be 25 years old and 5) have had no accidents in the past three years.

In addition to the need for volunteers, the service needs a new ambulance to replace its four-year-old Dodge van that has been serving as an ambulance. "Until the money can be raised for the new ambulance, the county has agreed to lease an ambulance to us for three to six months," Shackford said.

"We are appealing to the public to help raise the money ($20,000) he said. Tax deductible donations may be made to the Pahokee Ambulance Service Memorial Fund, P.O. Box 721, Pahokee, to the Ambulance Office (a trailer behind Everglades Memorial Hospital), or to Accountant Leonard Dobrow's office.

They hope to get the county leased ambulance next week, Shackford noted. Besides the van, the service has a new 1976 ambulance. "We have the equipment for two ambulances," Shackford said, so a second ambulance would complete the outfit.
